

Concept Question 3-1: What is the difference between a true-color image and a false-color image?

False-color images should have colorbars to identify the numerical value associated with each color.

True-color images consist of three images, representing the red, green, and blue components of the image.